Local Singer-Songwriter Nicole Ensing Releases Debut CD “Riddles and Creeds” at Launch Concert Sunday November 2 at the Albion

The Nicole Ensing Band will release their debut album “Riddles and Creeds” at a concert to be held Sunday November 2, 7:30 PM, upstairs at the Albion Hotel, 49 Norfolk St Guelph.

Nicole is a Guelph Ontario-based pianist and vocalist. Classically-trained, in recent years she has branched into jazz and also developed her folk side as pianist for The Wild Oats, with which she has previously recorded two albums. Joining her in the Nicole Ensing Band are Sam Fitzpatrick on upright bass, Brian Bork on guitar and Joel Sypkes on drums. The band’s sound is centered on catchy, well-crafted piano lines that combine folk charm, jazz stylings and rocknroll energy.

In Riddles and Creeds, Nicole reworks some of the best-loved lyrics of British poet G.K. Chesterton (1874—1936) into songs exploring themes of the magic of life, spiritual search and friendship. Chesterton had an enormous impact on 20th century literature, especially through his influence on C.S. Lewis and J.R.R. Tolkien.

Riddles and Creeds will be released on the Chanter Records label on Friday October 10 2014.
